

Agency Partner Programme

Your multilingual partner for creative,
compliant, and cross-border marketing success.

Partner with Eagle Language Service to deliver multilingual campaigns that inspire, engage, and comply — across Spain, the UK, France, and Germany.

Whether you're a marketing, PR or design agency, our sworn and marketing translators work seamlessly behind your brand to ensure your creative projects speak every client's language

Why partner with Eagle's

Deliver global campaigns with confidence — without the growing pains.

Building an in-house language team takes time, a budget and the right specialists for each market. That's where we step in.

We partner with marketing, PR and design agencies to help them go multilingual fast — delivering high-quality, sworn and marketing translations that preserve creative intent, regulatory accuracy and brand integrity.

Your clients are expanding across borders. They want their message to sound as sharp in Madrid as it does in London or Berlin — and they expect you to make it happen.

Expand your reach — without expanding your team

Offer Spanish, French, German and English campaigns. Add new markets without new hires, extra admin or losing creative control over your client work.

Protect your reputation — and your client's credibility

All sworn and marketing translations are completed by certified professionals with international accreditation, ensuring legal accuracy.

Stay in control — your clients remain yours

Your client relationship always stays yours. Choose white-label or co-branded delivery, protected by NDAs and aligned perfectly with your agency's tone.

Meet deadlines — without compromising quality

Agency projects move fast. Our priority turnaround service keeps launches, PR campaigns and proposals on schedule so you never lose client confidence.

Simplify your workflow — one contact, all languages

One partner, all languages. Your dedicated project manager handles quotes, QA and delivery — keeping your creative process centralised.

Build lasting value — grow your reputation globally

Build your agency's international credibility. With Eagle as your long-term language partner, every project opens new markets for future clients.

Four distinct audiences

You get the expertise, reliability and legal assurance of an international language partner — without hiring or managing in-house teams.

1

Sworn & Marketing Translation Services

From ad copy and social campaigns to contracts and compliance documents — every word is translated by specialists who understand your industry, your tone and your deadlines.

Dedicated project manager

You'll work with one multilingual project manager who coordinates quotes, timelines, quality control and delivery — ensuring every campaign runs smoothly from briefing to completion

Confidential white-label & co-branding options

Deliver translations under your agency's name, or co-brand when certification adds credibility. All projects are protected by strict NDAs and handled with complete discretion

Scalable capacity for any project size

Need ten product pages translated or a hundred-page regulatory report? We scale up or down instantly with a vetted network of linguists ready to meet your deadlines

Priority turnaround for agency partners

Your projects always go to the front of the queue. Fast, reliable delivery — 24- to 48-hour turnaround available for urgent marketing and sworn translation jobs, or quicker, according to your needs

Quality assurance at every step

Every translation is double-checked by a senior reviewer for linguistic accuracy, tone consistency and legal compliance — so you can deliver confidently, every time

How the partnership works

A seamless process built for busy agencies.

There are no portals to learn or complicated onboarding steps — just a professional, straightforward workflow that keeps your projects moving.

We handle the translation, formatting and certification behind the scenes, while you stay focused on the creative direction and client relationship.

Onboard your agency

We start with a short intro call to understand your workflow, project types and brand voice.

2

Submit your projects

Send briefs, copy, or documents directly to your dedicated contact.

3

We review and confirm.

Your account manager analyses the scope, languages and certification requirements.

4

We translate and verify

Specialised linguists handle your content — sworn, technical or creative.

5

Ready-to-deliver files

Final documents arrive on time, formatted and proofed — ready for your client.

6

We follow up and optimise

This helps us fine-tune tone, terminology and turnaround for your next projects

Co-branding & white label

Every agency operates differently. Some prefer complete discretion; others want the reassurance that comes from visible collaboration. That's why we offer two flexible partnership models — both designed to protect your client relationships and keep delivery seamless

White-Label Partnership

Deliver multilingual campaigns under your own brand with full confidentiality.

How it works:

- We translate, format and deliver files in your templates, tone and style guidelines.
- All projects are protected by NDAs and processed using secure, GDPR-compliant systems.
- You present deliverables as entirely your own, maintaining creative and client ownership.
- Your clients see consistent quality, tone and turnaround — with zero visible outsourcing.

When to choose this option:

- When you offer translation or localisation as part of your agency service mix.
- When confidentiality and brand control are essential.
- When you want a long-term, silent partner who scales your capacity.

Co-Branded Partnership

A co-branded partnership makes sense when your clients value certification, or verified expertise.

How it works:

- Deliverables feature both brands — your agency as the creative lead, Eagle as the certified translation authority
- Each document includes official credentials (sworn translator seal or certification where required)
- Our certification ensures your projects meet legal and professional standards

When to choose this option:

- For sworn or regulatory translations requiring legal validity.
- When working with institutional, governmental or corporate clients who require accredited partners.
- When visible expertise strengthens your proposal or final delivery.

Let's grow together

We tailor our support, processes and pricing to match your agency's structure, workload and client demands.

That's why we discuss rates, timelines and workflows during an introductory meeting — ensuring that everything we build together fits your exact needs
